'SHINER KILLED AND OFFICERS WOUNDED

In Desperate Battle Following Raid On Still In Nelson County Hills

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Oct. 12.—Arthur Burman, 50, an alleged moonshiner, was killed by a revenue officer during raids last night and early today near High Grove, Nelson county. L. H. Gilbert, county patrolman, of Highland Park, a suburb of Louisville, was shot in the forehead and both legs. N. E. Reed, prohibition officer of Edmonson county, was shot through the left leg below the knee and a cabin and still were burned.

The battle began last night when officers found a deserted cabin with a still in operation. Shots from the hills wounded two officers, who returned the fire. Later they left the cabin and telephoned to Louisville for reinforcements.

At daybreak officers approached the cabin and met with a second fusillade in which Burman was killed. Two other men, Oscar Porter, 20, of Mt. Washington, and Charles Nalley, of Nelson county, a farmer, were taken prisoners.

In the case of James Wilson, appealed from the lower court, Wilson was taxed $50 and cost. Lind say Cochran, A. W. Young, N. C. Dunn, and Bob Street all received a $10 fine for breach of the peace.

PORTER CALLS A "SPADE A SPADE"

Tells Dry Voters They Should Stand By Their Friends On Election Day

Danville, Ky., Oct. 12.—Declaring that if any business in the world was run with "half the incompetency and political favoritism that has marked the conduct of the national prohibition department," it would "go broke in three months," former Chief Prohibition Inspector J. Sherman Porter, of Lexington, in an address to the state convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union here Tuesday night, told of some of his experiences as a federal prohibition officer in Kentucky and declared that "the state law is not only ample for the punishment for all kinds of whisky crooks, but it is even stronger and a better law for that purpose than the Volstead act."

Mr. Porter, of the many unpublished violations of the prohibition law, told of a "king of the bootleggers in Northern Kentucky," who has so far "not even been arrested, or accused in any warrant, though there is enough documentary evidence on file in Washington to convict him of fifty crimes against the liquor laws," and of what he called the "evident reluctance at Washington to proceed against this fellow, while the prohibition department of Ohio continues to issue him wholesale drug licenses under which he can camouflage his bootlegging business."

Mr. Porter repeated his statements, made in an interview on his retirement from the government service August 1, that almost all of the warehouses and distillery robberies were "fakes," pure and simple, and that the same applies to "truck robberies," in which it is only one set of bootleggers robbing another, sometimes by prearrangement.

Mr. Porter said that in the hearing of charges against druggists and physicians at Owensboro and Paducah, "the good work of the Kentucky department was set aside by Commissioner John F. Kramer on the request of Kentucky Congressmen and Senators, who had the revocations of permits on evidence heard by Kentucky inspectors set aside and released some of the worst offenders in Kentucky."

Mr. Porter called attention to the effort to stop whisky selling in the cities and declared that this will never be done "until the women and decent men in the cities show themselves at least as good citizens as saloon keepers, bartenders and gamblers in the matter of exercising the right of suffrage and standing by their friends in politics."

WASHINGTON GIVES APPROVAL TO ROAD

Pike Out of Richmond One of Favored Projects In $2,828,794 Allowance

Nothing stands in the way now of work beginning on the seven miles out of Richmond on the Lexington pike, except the moving in of the equipment of the Carey-Reed Company, contractors. Word was received from Washington Tuesday that almost three million dollars worth of road projects in which the federal road department will co-operate, have been approved. In the list is the Lexington pike out of Richmond. The dispatch from Washington said:

Twelve Kentucky road projects, calling for an expenditure of approximately $2,828,794, of which 50 per cent is to be allotted from federal aid funds, have been approved by the Public Roads Bureau, Department of Agriculture, during the three-month period, from July 1 to September 31, it was learned today.

This, according to officials of the bureau, is one of the most extensive road improvement programs initiated in any state under the federal aid plan within so short a period. The total mileage to be covered by the twelve Kentucky projects is 166.7, and the total federal aid funds to be allotted is estimated at $1,414,319.21.

Brief descriptions of the twelve Kentucky projects which have been approved since July 1, as obtained from the records of the Public Roads Bureau, are then given, that of the local road, and a couple of others in this section of the state being as follows:

Project 39—Barbourville and Pineville, of Cincinnati to Knoxville system; situated in Knox county, between Barbourville and Bell county lines; 11.3 miles long; improvement provides for grade, and drain construction; federal aid allotted, $91,346.71.

Project 63—Winchester and Mt. Sterling road of main trunk line from Louisville to Ashland on Midland Trail; situated in Clark county between Winchester and Mt. Sterling; 9.59 miles long; improvement provides for rock asphalt; federal aid allotted, $190,857.

Project 49—Lexington pike of Dixie Highway; situated in Madison county, between Richmond and Lexington; 7 miles long; improvement provides for rock asphalt; federal aid allotted, $132,632.50.

Both Teams Regard This Game as Crucial One

New York, Oct. 12.—The Giants and Yankees are keyed up above normal today for the seventh game of the world's series. Tied at three games by the Giants' victory yesterday, both teams seemed to think the break in the game will appear today and point to the ultimate victory. Which ever wins today will be only one victory away from the ultimate goal. An early rain today was followed by clear cold weather.

Sentences Are Affirmed By Court of Appeals

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 12.—The Court of Appeals Tuesday upheld a verdict of 21 years imprisonment given Dan Baker by a jury of the Bell circuit court for the killing of John H. Hensley. DR. COLLINS URGES GROWERS TO SIGN UP

Former Madison Man, Home on Visit, Tells of Great Results Obtained In Colorado...

A stirring message from Colorado to the burley tobacco growers of Kentucky and other states is brought by Dr. P. P. Collins, a physician of Denver, and owner of a large farm in Madison county, who is here on a visit to his mother, Mrs. William Collins, and brother, May Collins.

Following the organization of cooperative marketing association among the fruit growers of Colorado's fruit belt, Dr. Collins says that land prices jumped from $100 an acre to $300 and $400 within a year or so, and now these same lands are selling at $1,000 an acre. He predicts the very same result will be had here in Kentucky if the burley growers have the foresight and good business sense to become members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association.

"My brother and I bought some fruit land in Colorado at $100 an acre several years ago," Dr. Collins said today. "At that time we were just from Kentucky, where $100 an acre was a very high figure to pay for land. We thought it steep. But the marketing association was formed, and land commenced to go up. The association was a great success. The farmers began to receive better prices for their products and all got on the bandwagon; in fact, there was a great rush to join the association by those who had held back while their brothers were going forward in the big work. I sold out my holdings at $350 an acre and thought I was making a nice profit. Now the same land is selling for $1,000 an acre."

"I cannot urge too strongly upon the tobacco growers of Kentucky the wisdom of joining this association. They will never regret it. It will prove the greatest thing they ever did to make things better for them and their families. It will mean prosperity for Kentucky in a measure that her people have never known."

BURLEY PRODUCTION DROP SEEN FOR 1921

Production of burley tobacco this year will be only 161,670,000 pounds, according to figures made public last night by Dr. W. F. Bryant, head of the Bureau of Crop Estimates for Kentucky. This represents an acreage of 190,200.

According to Mr. Bryant's figures, the yield is very light this year, averaging only 850 pounds, whereas 1,000 pounds is considered an average yield. This, combined with the unusually small number of acres planted, will cause the crop to be one of the smallest in several years.

The production last year, when prices reached an unusually low level, was approximately 225,000,000 pounds. Much of this tobacco was bought by speculators and sold during the summer and fall at advances ranging from 4 to 10 cents, the report stated.

NATIVE OF MADISON DIES IN CLARK

Life's end came for Mrs. Anna Francis Lisle, age 71 years, of the Elkin Station neighborhood in Clark county on Saturday night about 12 o'clock after a lingering illness.

The deceased was the widow of the late Brack Lisle, of the same vicinity; and had been in declining health for a number of years. At the time of her death she was making her home with her daughter, Mrs. William Johnson, near Elkin Station. She was a daughter of James F. Jackson, of Madison county, her mother being a Miss Sallie Tribble before her marriage. Besides her immediate family she has a number of relatives in this and adjoining counties. She is an aunt of Chief of Police Woodson McCord, C. B. McCord and J. L. McCord, of Winchester.

Funeral services were conducted at the grave in the Winchester cemetery Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

KU KLUX HAVE ENORMOUS INCOME

Congressional Investigation Shows Up Secrets of Much Advertised Secret Band

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 12.—After hearing a score of witnesses urging Congressional investigation of the Ku Klux Klan, the House Rules Committee called today for the testimony of officers of the order. Paul Ethridge, of Atlanta, who said he is supreme attorney for the order, denied Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, of Atlanta, had any connection with the order. A number of negroes today asked the committee to order an investigation.

Says They'll "Get" Simmons

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 12.—Five shots were fired last night at Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, assistant chief of the propagating bureau of the Ku Klux Klan, according to reports to the police, but while the bullets smashed her bedroom window, they failed to hit her. An investigation resulted in no indication of who did the shooting but a few minutes after the incident a man called the Atlanta Constitution on the telephone and said:

"I just want to say that we got Mrs. Tyler tonight and we will get Simmons (the imperial wizard who is in Washington) tomorrow."

Washington, Oct. 12.—Digging into activities of the Ku Klux Klan, the House Rules Committee developed by testimony today that the organization had taken in $1,488,710 since its foundation.

Though news letters said to have been sent from Klan headquarters, and not intended for general publication, the statement also was made that the Norfolk police chief had promised 240 rifles to the Norfolk order "in time of trouble," and that Representative Wm. D. Upshaw, democrat, of Georgia, in whose home district the Klan was born, had been "put to it to deny membership in the Klan and at the same time square his conscience as a preacher and church member."

The imperial wizard of the order, William J. Simmons, of Atlanta, set all day in the crowded committee room and heard witnesses declare that he was not its actual head; that all powers seemed vested in Edward Young Clark, head of the publicity or propaganda bureau, and Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, his assistant. Available records, the inspector said, showed collections amounting to $860,393 from June 1, 1920, to September 24, 1921.

EDWARDS PRAISES KNOX'S SCHOOL FAIR

County Supt. of Schools Ben F. Edwards is back from Knox county where he attended the big school fair at Barbourville, the past week. He says that it was one of the finest exhibitions he ever saw, with a magnificent parade and some 400 or 500 people in town to see it. Out of that vast assemblage he did not see a single drunk man, and is loud in his praises of the good work of law enforcement at Barbourville. There were about 15 or 20 schools represented and 2,000 pupils in the parade. It had been hoped that Gov. Morrow would be present to address them. Supt. Edwards says, but the governor was busy fishing at Red Bird in Clay county, a short distance away.

Mrs. Rose M. Brown Gained 20 Pounds In Four Weeks Time

Declares It's Simply Astonishing
To See the Wonderful Benefits
She Has Derived From Tanlac.
—Says Terrible Headaches
Have Disappeared

"It sounds unreasonable, but I have actually gained 20 pounds in less than a month's time by taking Tanlac, and the wonderful benefit I have derived from the use of this medicine is simply astonishing," said Mrs. Rose M. Brown, 11 Third street, Manchester, N. H.

"Why, I am so happy to be relieved of my troubles. I can really never praise this medicine enough. Up to the time I began taking Tanlac, I suffered for something over two years with a very bad form of stomach trouble.

"My appetite was so poor I could scarcely eat a thing. My stomach would be so badly bloated with gas sometimes I was almost afraid to go to bed for fear I would actually smother. I felt tired and worn out most of the time and became terribly discouraged over my condition. I often had such violent headaches I was unable to be out of bed for two or three days at a time.

"Four bottles of Tanlac completely restored my health and anyone can see at a glance the wonderful change that has taken place in my condition. I have a splendid appetite now and the stomach trouble has entirely disappeared. I can eat just anything I want without ever feeling a sign of indigestion. The best of all, I am never bothered any more with headaches and this was the greatest relief of all. I want to tell everybody what this medicine has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son and leading druggists.

The Man Who Said: "The proof of the pudding is in the eating"— was only half through

He started a good pudding-proof, but he didn't finish it.

There's a lot of trouble in the world from puddings that taste good but don't do good.

They "eat" well, but that ends the recommendation.

Sanitariums are full of pudding-eaters who stopped the test at taste and forgot to inquire whether their food gave the body what it needed—until the body rebelled.

Grape-Nuts is a food that tastes good and does good. The proof of Grape-Nuts begins in the eating and goes on through the splendid service which Grape-Nuts renders as a real food. Grape-Nuts is the perfect goodness of wheat and malted barley—delicious to taste, easy to digest, and exceptionally rich in nourishment for body and brain.

Country Against Amendments

Notwithstanding the tremendous efforts of Superintendent George Colvin and his host of retainers, the effort to foist the two proposed constitutional amendments upon the people of Kentucky is making little progress. The city papers of Louisville are using a lot of propaganda, but out in the country, not one paper in ten is supporting it. Lilburn Phelps spoke against the amendments down in Adair county the other day and the Adair County News had this mention editorially of the proposition:

Hon. Lilburn Phelps, Secretary of the Republican State Committee, addressed the people of Adair county at the courthouse last Monday. He is opposed to the adoption of Amendment No. 1 and so advised the voters. This amendment is to take the election of the State Superintendent out of the hands of the people and let the office be filled by appointment, the advocates claiming that such an action would take the office of State Superintendent out of politics. Mr. Phelps' position is that to adopt the amendment would not take the office of State Superintendent out of politics; that when the Republicans were in power a significant would be named as State Superintendent, and vice versa, when the Democrats were in power, Mr. Phelps is right and every voter in Adair county, Republican and Democrat, should cast his suffrage against the amendment. No man or woman in Adair county should fail to vote against said amendment. Let the people say who they want for State Superintendent, not leave it to a few men to say. This State has long been governed by the voice of the people and that right should not be removed by amendment which will silence the electorate at the polls. The speech of Mr. Phelps was a strong presentation of the question and the voters should heed his admonition. In our judgment Adair county is almost solidly against the amendments and will so vote. Mr. Phelps was introduced by Hen J. E. Montgomery, who also spoke in telling words against the amendment.

A war between Italy and Jugoslavia has become a grave possibility.

Thankful He Was Not a Woman

The late Lawson Tait, of England, the great woman's doctor, said he never went to bed at night without thanking heaven he was not born a woman. No doctor ever knew better than he what women have to suffer at some times of their lives. It was an American woman, long since passed to her reward, who introduced a combination of roots and herbs called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that has proved wonderfully successful in mitigating suffering and relieving diseases of women. It has brought relief to thousands of women who suffered from female ills.

Kansas City, Oct. 12—There'll be a grand reunion of the dough-boy and the doughnut when the gang comes here October 31, November 1 and 2, for the third annual convention of the American Legion. The streets will look like the roads to and from the front lines during war days in France.

The veterans will find as they leg it down the streets of Kansas City, doughnut dugouts on all sides of them. These familiar looking sights will bear the name plates of the Salvation Army, and in the aperture will be a smiling face which will bring back memories of never to be forgotten days. The face will be that of a Salvation Army lassie, and in her hands she'll have crisp, flaky doughnuts to hand out to the famished, and coffee to slake the thirst.

President Harding's voice will carry directly to the Pacific Coast when he delivers his address over the body of the unknown American soldier at Arlington on Armistice Day. A plan by which long distance wires and amplifiers will transmit the President's words that they will be heard by thousands of people in San Francisco, Chicago and New York as clearly as if the President stood before them, is being worked out by the Bell telephone system and the American Legion.

Amplifiers of hitherto unapproached power will be set up at Arlington, New York, Chicago and San Francisco. While the speech is in progress, engineers of the telephone system will be watching and guarding the lines and every bit of telephone apparatus from Washington to the Coast. The voice emerging from the horns will be almost the exact duplication of the original, but greatly increased in carrying power.

The Legion has been charged with arrangements for assembling and handling the thousands of people in each city. State and city officials have been ordered by Legion headquarters to begin work at once with the Bell system officials in San Francisco, Chicago and New York; that there will be not the least hitch in the program. This will be the first time that attempted in public, but private have demonstrated that the coast-to-coast transmission and experiments by Bell engineers suits will be almost perfect.

SUGGESTS OBSERVANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 12.—Efforts to have every city and town in the state where an American Legion post is situated observe Armistice Day in a fitting way are being made by the State Department of the American Legion, according to Emmett O'Neal, Department Commander. The state department is sending to each post throughout the state a suggestion of programs that may be held.

One of the chief features urged by the State Department is that every post hold a night memorial in a local church on Armistice Day. The service should be marked by the best music obtainable, a notable speaker, a dignified program and should be attended by ex-service men in uniform.

For the day celebration suggestion is made that city officials and business men be asked to declare a holiday and that a parade of ex-service men be held. A picnic is suggested with addresses by a prominent speaker and an ex-service man.

Problems of the community and state, such as good roads, better educational facilities and other branches of American Legion interests are suggested for discussion, with the American Legion speaker talking on the problem of the disabled and the work being done by the "Cleanup Squad" which is straightening out the claims of the disabled.

Games, races and other local amusements also are suggested.

Salts For Shampoo

(By Associated Press)
Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 10.—Years ago Mark Twain wrote of the astringent qualities of the water in Mono Lake, Mono county, but it remained for later day Californians to remember what he had said about the minerals in this body of water. A company incorporated by Sacramento and San Francisco capitalists has been formed to establish a plant to extract the salts from the water. The salts are said to be of use as washing powder, as a basis for shampoo and for other purposes.

GIBBON'S SUCCESSOR'S METEORIC CAREER

(By Associated Press)
Tampa, Fla., Oct. 12.—Ten years a priest, all of them in Florida, and seven years the bishop of this diocese, preceded by four years in the Propaganda University at Rome, comprise the meteoric career of the young Archbishop of Baltimore, who will ascend the throne long graced by the great Gibbons, on November 20. Today Archbishop Curley is celebrating his 42nd birthday.

Michael Joseph Curley was born in Athlone, County Westmeath, Ireland, October 12, 1879, one of ten children and a happy boyhood included among his playmates the celebrated tenor, John McCormack. Devoted to his ambition to become a churchman—first determined upon, he says, at the age of ten—the new archbishop's career may be said to have begun at sixteen when he rode for the first time on a train, his first trip away from home carrying him to Limerick to the College of Mungret, in 1895.

His creed as he summed it up in a recent conversation is just three words—"God and country."—an he boasts of his pride in his citizenship in the America of today.

Suddenly they have all grown up and left her—the babies she used to tuck in bed at night. The old house is empty and silent. All have forgotten her. Her birthdays pass unnoticed. Each child has embarked on a drama of his own. Loves, ambitions, temptations, carry them away. There are moments of laughter and comedy, romance, adventure, tragedy. The story of their lives sweeps you along. Your life—your home—your mother—as they might have been or as they are "The Old Nest" will awaken deep in your heart memories of the mother to whom you ran with your childish troubles. Never before has the screen touched with such beauty and dramatic force a subject which finds an echo in the lives of every one of us. One of the most heart-gripping dramatic stories ever narrated. Everyone says—"The most wonderful picture ever produced!" You'll laugh—You'll cry—You'll love it.

TWO GREAT WRITERS AND "THE OLD NEST"

"One of the greatest of all stories because its theme is the greatest of all themes—Life, and Life Now, here, yours, mine.

"All bitter and sweet, and sad and glad and majestic and petty, and divine and pitiful.

"A film story of life"—Dr. Frank Crane
"The Old Nest" is real and touching and almost incredible without an atom of false sentiment. I have seen it four times and cried each time."—Alice Duer Miller

READ WHAT LEXINGTON PEOPLE WHO HAVE SEEN "THE OLD NEST" SAY OF THIS REMARKABLE PHOTOPLAY

"A gripping picture of strong, ever-loving mother love. Every son and daughter will do well to see it."
(Signed) Lula B. Cochran
Secretary Y. W. C. A.

"A wonderful picture. Young and old alike should see it."
(Signed) James J. O'Brien
Commissioner of Finance

"I wish to say that 'The Old Nest,' which I was lucky to be invited to see screened, is a great picture, true to life, and should be seen by every one. A wonderful piece of photography."
(Signed) S. T. Swift

"The best and most touching picture I have ever seen—every part is true of too many homes. It is the kind to make the children remember. All ought to see it."
L. A. Michler

"It is the best, cleanest, most wholesome picture I have ever seen on the screen. Every mother and child should see it not once but twice."

(Signed) Mrs. W. H. Thompson
Pres. of Business and Profession-Women's Club, of Lexington

"The Old Nest" is a wonderful picture. It depicts the old-time home of my childhood, with the mother as the lodestone that drew the children home. In my case we were all together several times a year. In these days when money madness seems to prevail, it is a wholesome reminder that there are home ties of far more importance than chasing the almighty dollar. It is well worth while, and is a splendid wholesome screen success."
(Signed) Wood G. Dumlup
Commissioner Public Property

"It is a wonderful piece of art, both in its conception and in its production. It is full of humor, and tenderness. Its pathos and tragedy are never melodramatic, but such as must touch the universal heart.

"I want every man, woman and child in Lexington to see it. None of us are children of too old a growth to profit by it, though it may awaken remorse. All young people owe it to the mothers that bore them to learn the lesson 'The Old Nest' will teach them, while yet there is time to go back to the old home once more.

"And the photo-picture teaches a most important lesson to mothers, too, and father, also, and warns them against serious faults and errors."
Bishop Burton

"If you wish a picture that appeals to the heart and the conscience, that awakens the love for mothers, that, because of business stress and self interests, has long lain dormant, in 'The Old Nest' you have it.

"As scene after scene is portrayed, picturing never-failing mother-love, unconfined, ever-present, with father by her side to give of his time, strength and support, one sits with bated breath, tense with interest, as the world old battle is waged between waiting mothers and children's thoughtless neglect.

"The setting is perfect, emphasizing the fact of mother's sacrifices, children's neglect in every line. The pathos brings tears, the finale heartsease and smiles.

"Criticism, one cannot, for 'The Old Nest' is a wonderful picture, with setting flawless; the musical score blending with the scenes—no discords, all harmony. In its wholesome portrayal of life, it appeals to the clergy as well as to laymen, youth as well as age.

It quickens the conscience of sins of omission to mothers and the desire that reunions in the old home nest, with mothers enthroned as best beloved, be not neglected.

"See the picture. Words and pen fail to reveal its appeal to all that is best, holding one's interest from beginning to end. It is virile, not weak, for it is life."
Mrs. William Dowell Oldham
State War Mother

"A very wonderful and beautiful picture, too realistic and sad in parts, but it gives a great lesson in the hurry and bustle and selfishness of the present times. It also makes one glad, glad that there is a happy medium left yet in many of the homes of this world.

"The purity and pathos of the picture is overwhelmingly appealing.

ing. It is a lesson to mothers as well as to children."
(Signed) Mary Bryan
Lexington Herald

"You will be doing much for the betterment of the home and the community in showing to them the wonderful lessons and the inspiration of 'The Old Nest.' To witness it was to me a rare treat."

Mrs. Stephen A. Fletcher
Reg. Lexington Chapter D. A. R.

"The Old Nest" is a wonderful message and will fill a need in calling to mind our duty to our mothers."
(Signed) L. F. Zerfoss
Boy's Work Sec. Y. M. C. A.

"The chief lesson taught, 'Don't neglect mother, father can stand it, but mother can't.' Be sure to see it."
